Background

- Emergency Preparedness Insights from Force-on-Force Exercises
- NRC Bulletin 2005-02: Drill and Exercise Program for Security-Based Events
 - Phase 1: Develop guidelines and conduct several table top drills
 - Phase 2: Conduct non-evaluated integrated drills
 - Phase 3: Incorporate scenarios into six-year exercise cycle

Lessons Learned

■ Diablo Canyon

- Coordination between licensee and ORO responders
 - Request for offsite assistance coordinated through central location
 - Diversity of communication styles, methods and standards
- Challenges with high temperature fire conditions

■ Duane Arnold

- Federal agency coordination with State and Local Organizations
 - Identification of all State and local responders to a security event
 - Federal response and demonstration with local resource capabilities
 - Impacts on State and local responders due to escalation of National Threat Level

Future Activities

- North Anna – Tabletop (December 2005)
- Vermont Yankee – Tabletop (February 2006)
- Callaway – Drill (February – March 2006)
